Mohs Micrographic Skin Cancer Surgery

We offer Mohs micrographic surgery which has the highest cure rate for basal and squamous cell skin cancers. This highly technical and specialized technique is performed by an experienced board certified Mohs surgeon. It removes the least amount of normal tissue necessary thereby leaving the smallest scar possible. Anxiety is minimized because biopsy results are obtained at the time of surgery, confirming the complete removal of the cancer so the patient can go about their lives. Mohs is the treatment of choice for cases involving high risk areas, such as the face, nose or eyes and for large, difficult, poorly defined or recurrent skin cancers.
